

Who	Title/Area of Focus	Description	Link to Media Library
John Frager	CEO	David interviews John Frager, CEO of a successful real estate company about how he uses GTD to support his team and clients.	https://secure.davidco.com/connect/audio.php?titleid=8&trackid=63
Steve Kowalski	Learning & Development	David interviews Steve Kowalski, a PhD in learning development working for a fast-growing biotechnology company. Steve shares with a particular passion how GTD intersects with innovation, creativity, and efficiency. You'll also hear his perspective on "authenticity" and it's emerging importance in leadership roles.	https://secure.davidco.com/connect/audio.php?titleid=9&trackid=65
James Fallows	Journalist	Welcome into the mind and world of James Fallows, one of the most renowned journalists in the U.S. Our conversation covers topics of current interest to Jim, including American politics and China, his engagement with GTD, and his favorite personal productivity tech tools. We're delighted to have Jim as an on-going resource in our Connect "salon."	https://secure.davidco.com/connect/audio.php?titleid=12&trackid=90
Peter Gallant	CEO of startup technology company	In this interview you'll dive into the world of how Dr. Peter Gallant works. In addition to his Ph.D. in Engineering (which gives him a strong inclination for systems and process) he's a self-taught GTD'er. If you're interested in working models of what GTD looks, sounds, and feels like in the real world of a really busy person, listen closely...	https://secure.davidco.com/connect/multimedia/audio.php?titleid=15&trackid=100
Steve Leveen	CEO of Levenger - desktop accessories	Steve shares his GTD best practices with candor, humility, and a wonderful enthusiasm for the game of work and the business of life. Enjoy this reality-based dialog with the founder and CEO of one of the most successful distributors of tools for reading, thinking, and living.	https://secure.davidco.com/connect/multimedia/audio.php?titleid=18&trackid=120
Arianna Huffington	Founder/ Editor - Huffington Post; Author; Radio host	Arianna Huffington's day-to-day world provides a great demonstration of a highly productive lifestyle. A nationally-syndicated columnist, author of ten books, co-host of public radio's "Left, Right, and Center," an active mom, an	https://secure.davidco.com/connect/multimedia/audio.php?titleid=38&trackid=165 executive of her own businesses, and cofounder/editor of the Huffington Post, she is not lacking in her ability to get things done!

David Gardner	Co-Founder & Chairman - The Motley Fool; stock analyst	How do you get from being a college literature major writing an informal newsletter about a hobby, stock investing, to being one of the most widely followed stock market advisors in the world? Find out in our lively conversation with Co-Founder and Chairman of The Motley Fool.	https://secure.davidco.com/connect/multimedia/audio.php?titleid=40&trackid=180
Dr. Julie Flagg	Physician - OB/GYN	Birth, life, and death can be rather compelling stand-alone topics. When you combine them with GTD, it gets particularly interesting. Dr. Julie Flagg shares the best practices she applies in her large OB/GYN clinic and practice, where she is responsible for the health and well-being of more than 30,000 women.	https://secure.davidco.com/connect/multimedia/audio.php?titleid=44&trackid=196
Randal Fullhart	General - U.S. Air Force	Graduating from the U.S. Air Force Academy in 1979, Randy has commanded at the squadron, group and wing levels. He shares insights and tips about his own journey with GTD in his very real and responsible world. Tune in for some practical applications of the sometimes amorphous concepts of leadership and teamwork.	https://secure.davidco.com/connect/multimedia/audio.php?titleid=54&trackid=224
Kevin Wilde	VP, CLO - General Mills	As VP and Chief Learning Officer at General Mills, Kevin provides great coaching in this interview for changing our habits in the right direction, and some useful perspectives in working with others. He's a really good guy doing really good things in a really big place.	https://secure.davidco.com/connect/multimedia/audio.php?titleid=59&trackid=257
Tim Braheem	Founder, CEO - LoanToolbox.com	Tim is one of those unique individuals who lives in a fast-paced day-to-day professional world and simultaneously keeps a firm grasp on the bigger picture. He shares with David his story, his systems, and his very practical and conscious approach to getting things done.	https://secure.davidco.com/connect/multimedia/audio.php?titleid=61&trackid=268
Dean Hering	Senior Partner - Netcentrics	Educated at Virginia Tech and Carnegie Mellon, Dean was the primary driver of the creation of the GTD Add-In for Microsoft Outlook, and currently leads development and deployment at NetCentrics' innovation-support software division, OVO. Here's a current, rich	https://secure.davidco.com/connect/multimedia/audio.php?titleid=64&trackid=281

		slice of his on-going conversation with David.
Connie Burkhardt	Banking Services Partner - Edward Jones	As a mom with a big family, owner of a large farm and vineyard, and head of all the banking services for a successful financial firm, Connie gives us a look at how GTD became a necessary core practice for her and her organization.	https://secure.davidco.com/connect/multimedia/audio.php?titleid=67&trackid=298
Kim Hagerty	CEO - Hagerty Insurance Agency, Inc.	Kim runs a highly successful family business in the specialty insurance field. With refreshing candor and caring, she shares with David how she and the company have integrated GTD as core principles and processes to maintain equilibrium, focus, fun, and freedom. And she provides some inspiring reminders of the value of continuous improvement.	https://secure.davidco.com/connect/multimedia/audio.php?titleid=69&trackid=304
Mike Williams	Senior Director of Education Services, Enterprise Solutions at GE Healthcare	A seasoned executive and dedicated GTD Connect member himself, Mike Williams discourses with David about how GTD has served a strategic role in providing stable reference points in his job of integrating organizational cultures. He elegantly describes the subtleties and dynamic nature of those things which are "more than meet the eye" about the GTD process.	https://secure.davidco.com/connect/multimedia/audio.php?titleid=70&trackid=311
Karen Linehan Mroz	President - Middle East Children's Institute	Karen, a long-time friend and colleague of David's, shares about productivity practices in her life and work over the decades. As a dedicated GTD practitioner, she talks about the implementation and migration of her own process, shares many success stories, and provides a unique window into the world of how to stay afloat in the world of the super-busy.	https://secure.davidco.com/connect/multimedia/audio.php?titleid=74&trackid=321
Sean Finn	Senior Vice President - CN Railways	What happens when an already-successful attorney and senior corporate executive gets the GTD bug? It unleashes a relaxed, focused, perpetual energy machine, getting tons of stuff done across an enormous variety of platforms. In this perspective-packed interview, Sean shares with David his own story about discovering and implementing the GTD best practices.	https://secure.davidco.com/connect/multimedia/audio.php?titleid=76&trackid=340
Patrick Carroll	Founder, Senior Partner - Carroll	Small business owners live and work deep "in the trenches," wearing multiple hats. Patrick	https://secure.davidco.com/connect/multimedia/audio.php?titleid=78&trackid=373

	Insurance Group; health insurance	Carroll shares with David his experience with GTD over the years, and how it has been the critical component for the growth and success of his own insurance practice. He gives some great reminders of the practical value of GTD's "horizons of focus" and planning techniques.
The Simpsons Writers (Rob LeZebnik, Dan Greaney, & Danny Chun)	TV Writers; Entertainment	What happens when you cross GTD with one of the world's most successful TV comedy shows? You'll find out in this high-energy and humorous dialog between David and three of the writers of The Simpsons. Listen to Rob LeZebnik, Dan Greaney, & Danny Chun share how, in a unique professional environment, they produce creative comedy by committee that may have some lessons for all of us!	https://secure.davidco.com/connect/multimedia/audio.php?titleid=82&trackid=392
Jim Whitton	Regional Director - The Hunger Project	Jim Whitton shares with David how GTD has played a significant role in his work and life. Against the background of his high-level involvement with a global initiative to understand and alleviate hunger, Jim talks about some of the specific best practices that have helped him manage projects, relationships, and lifestyle.	https://secure.davidco.com/connect/multimedia/audio.php?titleid=83&trackid=401
Alan Nelson	Founder and Senior Partner - CRA, Inc.	Here's an hour of great coaching from one of the world's experts in corporate communications. Alan Nelson, consultant to leaders in the Fortune 100 companies, talks with David about his insights on how the "how" is as important as the "what" in what we're trying to get across. He also shares some interesting aspects of his GTD practices, and how to help others to "get it."	https://secure.davidco.com/connect/multimedia/audio.php?titleid=84&trackid=407
Andrew Hoxsey	Vintner - Napa Wine Company; winemaking	Running one of the oldest and most respected wine companies in Napa Valley, Andrew Hoxsey has incorporated the basics of the GTD thought process in and through his life, his work, and his company. Join Andy and David as they share more good perspectives on simplicity, discipline, and tricks for positive visioning, along with a peek into the world of wine.	https://secure.davidco.com/connect/multimedia/audio.php?titleid=87&trackid=429
Randy Harward	Quality Director - Patagonia	Improving quality in our environment teams up with deep experience in systems thinking in a delightful interview with the person globally	https://secure.davidco.com/connect/multimedia/audio.php?titleid=123&trackid=441 responsible for standards and best products of the leader in outdoor clothing equipment, Patagonia. A long-time friend, Randy shares how he's married a passion for continuous improvement with a love of process, innovation & fulfillment.

Dean Acheson	Management Consultant	David's relationship with Dean Acheson goes back to the early 1980's when Dean was a mentor to him. Dean had uncovered and then trained David in two of the core principles of GTD - capturing incompletions and next-action decision-making. Still a consultant for the David Allen Company, Dean shares his own perspectives about the history and power of these techniques.	https://secure.davidco.com/connect/multimedia/audio.php?titleid=127&trackid=467
Ismael Ghalimi	Founder, CEO - Intalio software; Founder - Office 2.0	Ismael is the epitome of the new global and virtual professional. He runs a successful high-tech software company in Silicon Valley, as a dedicated GTDer manages himself with totally web-based software, and is the creator and driving force behind the annual Office 2.0 conference. Ismael shares with David his perspectives on getting things done in his highly mobile world.	https://secure.davidco.com/connect/multimedia/audio.php?titleid=129&trackid=479
Scott Allen	Partner - Linked To Your World; Author	Scott has been a pioneer in exploring and documenting the emerging, rapidly expanding world of social media and social networking. Here he shares with his uncle (David!) his interest and expertise in the field, and gives a broad introduction and overview of the major tools and trends. Together they raise the question, "Does all this networking really help get things done?"	https://secure.davidco.com/connect/multimedia/audio.php?titleid=132&trackid=493
Bruce Somers	Owner - Sinbox Media; direct response advertising and internet marketing	Listen as Bruce Somers, the head of a direct-response marketing company in L.A., shares an insider's perspectives on the world of television advertising and the internet. He provides details about the practical side of running a creative business and also how GTD has helped him stay on top of a fast-paced life-and workstyle.	https://secure.davidco.com/connect/multimedia/audio.php?titleid=134&trackid=508
Dave Logan	Professor - USC Marshall Business School;	Listen in on David's conversation with Dave Logan, PhD. A renowned expert on organizational performance with a background	https://secure.davidco.com/connect/multimedia/audio.php?titleid=139&trackid=532

	Founder, Consultant - CultureSync; Author	of teaching executive MBAs, Dave's also a founder of CultureSync - a management consulting firm. Here he talks about his best-selling book, Tribal Leadership, his intersection with David & GTD, and what those models have in common.
Frank Sopper	President - Open Book Learning, Inc.	Frank Sopper has been a leading researcher for many years in the area of cognitive learning - how we integrate and process information and apply it for skill-building and performance enhancement. A major champion of GTD, Frank talks with David about his own fascinating path, and how understanding and managing attention have become a significant factor in his field.	https://secure.davidco.com/connect/multimedia/audio.php?titleid=144&trackid=554
Evan Taubenfeld	Musician	David Allen interviews Evan Taubenfeld, a young up-and-coming rock musician, writer, and producer. Listen in as Evan shares how he uses GTD in his creative process.	https://secure.davidco.com/connect/multimedia/audio.php?titleid=152&trackid=584
Bill Lynch	President - ProChain Solutions, Inc.	In this in-depth conversation, David Allen and Bill Lynch explore the key principles to ensure on-time delivery of large-scale projects, and the role that GTD can play in the process.	https://secure.davidco.com/connect/multimedia/audio.php?titleid=164&trackid=619
Meghan Wilker	Managing Director - Clockwork Active Media; web development; blogger	David chats with Meghan Wilker, a tech whiz, mother of two and GTD enthusiast. Listen as Meghan shares how she uses GTD in her work and family life.	https://secure.davidco.com/connect/multimedia/audio.php?titleid=185&trackid=648
Dr. Maude Dull	Physician - Internist, Pediatrician and Intensive Care	In this in-depth conversation David talks with Dr. Maude Dull, Internist, Pediatrician and Intensive Care physician, about the runway-level realities of dealing with that kind of work and pressure. She candidly shares her perspectives of her world and how she applies GTD.	https://secure.davidco.com/connect/multimedia/audio.php?titleid=224&trackid=724
Tim Stringer	Consultant, Coach - technology and marketing	Tim Stringer, a personal consultant and coach, shares an intimate look into his decisions and approaches dealing with a life-threatening situation that validate a core principles of the GTD thought process - transforming problems into projects.	https://secure.davidco.com/connect/multimedia/audio.php?titleid=230&trackid=738
Eric Anderson	President, CEO - Space	Join David in a high-flying conversation with Eric Anderson, the entrepreneur who has	https://secure.davidco.com/connect/multimedia/audio.php?titleid=251&trackid=766

	Adventures, Ltd.	created the first company to offer space travel experiences to civilians. A strong GTD advocate, Eric describes his own path, shares the strong vision that motivates him, and gives us a view into his world.
Danny Passman	Attorney - Gang, Tyre, Ramer & Brown, Inc.; Screenwriter	In this upbeat session, David talks with Danny Passman, a successful Beverly Hills attorney and budding screenwriter. In addition to being a major promoter of GTD, Danny also epitomizes the interesting place where creativity and structure meet, and he and David explore the eternal tension and connection between the two.	https://secure.davidco.com/connect/multimedia/audio.php?titleid=260&trackid=781
Marshall Goldsmith	Executive Coach and Management Consultant; Author; organizational development	Join David as he talks with Marshall Goldsmith, the preeminent executive coach, leadership scholar, and best-selling author. Marshall shares some of his bottom-line conclusions about high-performance leadership behaviors, and how they are applicable to all of us.	https://secure.davidco.com/connect/multimedia/audio.php?titleid=269&trackid=796
Ben Hammersley	Editor-At-Large - Wired UK	David interviews Ben Hammersley, a highly-respected London-based writer and commentator, Ben's also an avid GTD enthusiast. In this wide-ranging, energetic conversation with David, he shares his perspectives on culture, technology, and the modern world in general.	https://secure.davidco.com/connect/multimedia/audio.php?titleid=290&trackid=824
Paul Saffo	Professional Forecaster; Professor - Stanford University; Author	As an expert in the interplay between technology and culture, Paul Saffo is one of the most highly respected and quoted voices in Silicon Valley and around the world. As an aspiring and avid GTDer, Paul engages here with David about how he views the world, identifying trends and forecasting where our society is headed, as it is propelled by technological change.	https://secure.davidco.com/connect/multimedia/audio.php?titleid=304&trackid=871
Les McKeown	President & CEO - Predictable Success; Author - Predictable Success	Join David as he chats with Les McKeown, dedicated GTDer and author of Predictable Success, about his remarkable model of the life cycles of enterprises. Les shares about the effectiveness of organizations as they grow and mature.	https://secure.davidco.com/connect/multimedia/audio.php?titleid=319&trackid=893
Gillian Martin-Mehers	Non-profit management; Sustainability and	David talks with Gillian Martin Mehers, who has dedicated her career to helping people doing good work in organizations focusing on	https://secure.davidco.com/connect/multimedia/audio.php?titleid=327&trackid=910

	conservation	global sustainability. As a highly enthusiastic GTDer and experienced professional in training and development, she shares many of her own successful techniques for spreading those best practices to others.
Joline Godfrey	CEO, Independent Means Inc. ; Author - Raising Financially Fit Kids	David chats with his long-time friend, Joline Godfrey, a dynamic entrepreneur and innovative educator who is touching to kids and families with invaluable information and experiences around effectively managing money. She is the author of numerous books on this topic, and here she shares her fascinating story.	https://secure.davidco.com/connect/multimedia/audio.php?titleid=336&trackid=927
Mark Ramdan	CEO Kensington & Sons, LLC	Want a peak into the spark and thinking and development, from the ground up, of a creative idea turned into a potentially fast-growth consumer-products start-up? Listen in. David talks with Mark Ramadan, youthful New York professional, serious GTDer, who's wound up in the creative, fast-paced world of entrepreneurship, on a fast track from university to on-the-street marketing and distribution.	https://secure.davidco.com/connect/multimedia/audio.php?titleid=346&trackid=944
Russell Bishop	Vice President - Consulting Services - DAC; Senior Editor - The Huffington Post; Author	Russell Bishop is an emerging voice and authority in how personal development and organizational success are linked. Listen in, here, to David's conversation with Russell about their collaborations and explorations over the last thirty years, marrying the personal best-practices of the GTD principles with the powerful underlying truths of effective individual and organizational behaviors.	https://secure.davidco.com/connect/multimedia/audio.php?titleid=357&trackid=961
Patty Seybold	Founder & CEO - Patricia Seybold Group Author - Customers.com , Brandchild , The Customer Revolution , and Outside Innovation	In this wide-ranging interview, David talks with Patty Seybold, a consultant, author, and thought leader in customer engagement, innovation, and technology systems. She and David have been friends and collaborated informally for thirty years, and they catch up with each other here with interesting perspectives on trends and methodologies for enhancing the productive experience.	https://secure.davidco.com/connect/multimedia/audio.php?titleid=372&trackid=983

